PLANS: Pricing & Preparation

PLANS BREAKDOWN

When sending us the full set of plans and specifications for the jobsite, we will thoroughly review these extensive documents and extract the crucial information related ONLY to the venting for your project.

MATERIAL BREAKDOWN

From the plans breakdown, we put together a material breakdown of what will be needed for the jobsite. The full list of materials is summarized in an easy-to-read format so you may clearly see what parts are needed and which appliances they are venting. We strategically ensure the proper product is selected for the application in the most cost effective way.

BUDGET PRICING

After the material breakdown, we put together a price competitive quote so you can properly and aggressively bid your job. A Lifetime Chimney Supply quote holds value in today's industry alone. We are with you!

INFORMATION AND AMMO YOU NEED TO WIN

We are always going above and beyond to provide you with accurate information because we understand this is the way to WIN. From appliance-specific information, flue calculations and actual installation obstacles, Lifetime Chimney Supply will do the research so your internal workforce can stay focused. This will leave you confident that we will provide information you can TRUST.

SUBMITTAL: Design & Fabrication

FLUE DESIGNS

Our Engineering team designs with up-to-date code compliance, manufacturer's specs, ease of installation and actual operation in mind.

FLUE CALCULATIONS

New to our industry, this intuitive program offers state-of-the-art technology that simulates the actual operation of an appliance after a venting system has been designed. This technology encompasses all imperative data needed for accurate flue calculations, along with appliance dimensions and outlet specifications for an accurate starting adapter selection.

3D DRAWINGS

We represent our venting solutions with a 3D drawing, which will model your project's installation. This includes laying out specific jobsite measurements, supports, guides and drain locations. Our goal is to ensure accurate installation in the field based on approved designs. A bill of material will also be created calling out all parts, product specifics and jobsite information.

UL LISTING AND TESTING INFO

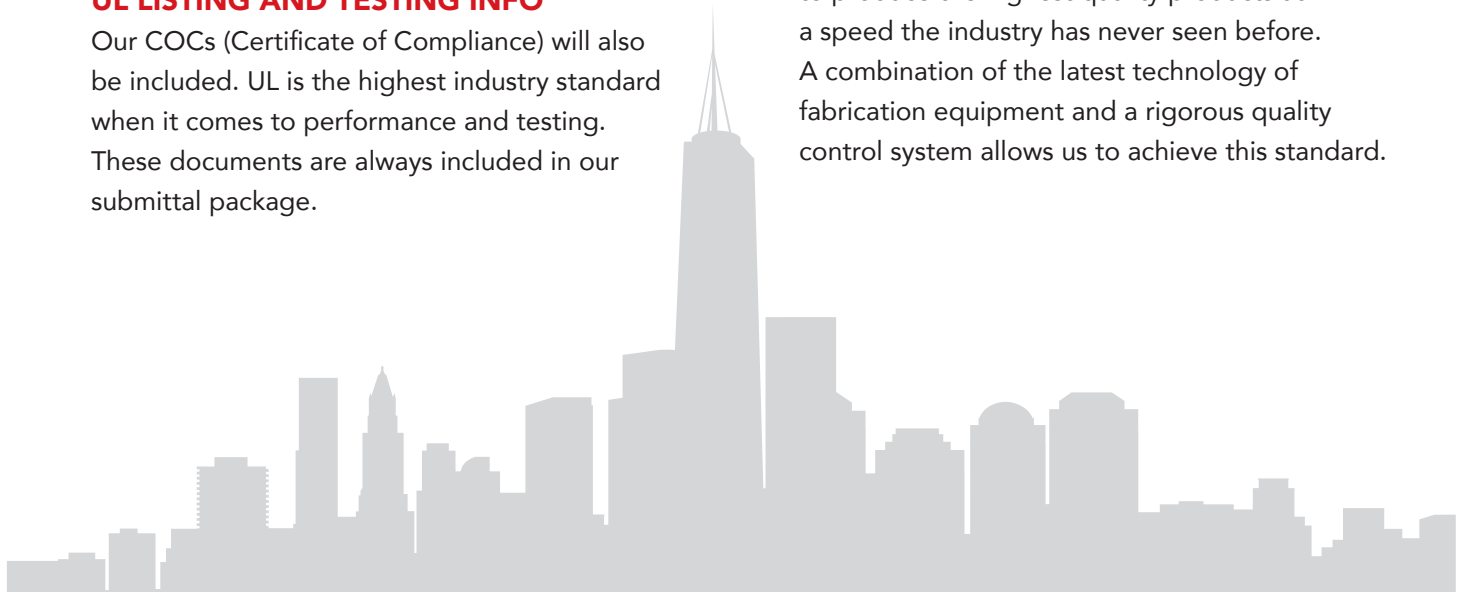

Our COCs (Certificate of Compliance) will also be included. UL is the highest industry standard when it comes to performance and testing. These documents are always included in our submittal package.

FULL AND CLEAR PACKAGE FOR SUBMITTAL AND FAST APPROVAL

The submittal process is crucial, and Lifetime Chimney Supply's submittal package is recognized by the industry as one of the best for streamlined engineering approvals. There is no equal. During the testing and approval process of all our products, we researched the competition to strategically outperform them in every category. We made this achievement possible by using the highest quality steel and insulation available on the market, along with an optimized manufacturing process and quality assurance standard that is unrivaled in the industry. Clarity is key and this complex process is clearly outlined in the submittal package, which shows our product's record-breaking performance during testing.

FABRICATION

Once approved, the 3D drawing is directly imported into our state-of-the-art laser cutting machine, where each part is cut and then our streamlined fabrication process begins. Lifetime Chimney Supply has created a production line to produce the highest quality products at a speed the industry has never seen before. A combination of the latest technology of fabrication equipment and a rigorous quality control system allows us to achieve this standard.

JOBSITE SUPPORT: Delivery & Warranty

LASER SCAN

Field measurements can become complex with multiple stories, multiple units, and other trades/obstacles in the boiler room. To simplify this process, we will meet you onsite to Laser Scan the jobsite in its entirety. This scan takes accurate measurements and creates a live environment for us to then 3D Model the best possible route for confident jobsite coordination, avoiding collisions with other trades as well as any obstacles in the boiler room. Live walkthroughs of our scans are also available to show our recommended route with all anticipated issues shown prior to install.

NEW YORK MANUFACTURING

We are close by and build for the New York market. We specifically manufacture products and accessories to fit the requirements of the many local governing agencies. Our constant onsite presence gives us this key knowledge.

IN-HOUSE DELIVERY

We don't rely on any third parties to deliver our product. This gives us greater availability and scheduling to get the product to the jobsite. This also allows for no middlemen confusion and interference if something gets damaged during transport.

SAME DAY EMERGENCY PARTS

Because we are close AND with our own delivery team, we can fabricate an emergency part and have it to you the same day. This availability is second to none and has helped our customers avoid costly time delays and establish long-term repeat business relations.

24/7 JOBSITE SUPPORT

Just because we sold you the parts, it doesn't mean our job is done. We offer our extensive knowledge to you 24/7, whether it's helping install our product, ensuring it is performing correctly OR navigating through an unforeseen jobsite obstacle.

25-YEAR WARRANTY

Backed by a best-in-industry warranty.

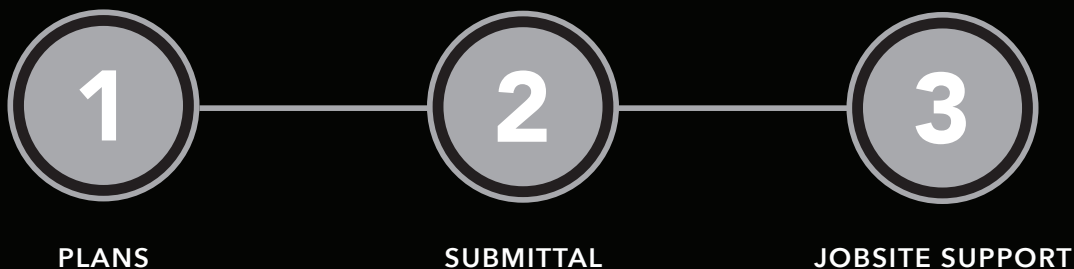

Today's commercial venting process requires experienced coordination.

This can get confusing, expensive, frustrating and time consuming when trying to complete a job. Lifetime Chimney Supply's knowledge of the industry has led us to simplify this process for our customers and colleagues. We have already taken steps to make our products pass the highest in-house and third-party standards. Now we are going one step farther to streamline this complex process.

We have broken this process down to 3 simple steps:

*Our customers remain loyal because we fabricate
the highest quality commercial venting solutions while offering unrivaled service for the best customer experience and support.*
